

Choice Plus Plan with an HRA.

With the Choice Plus Plan, you get a health reimbursement account (HRA) that is owned and funded by your employer to help you pay for covered health care services and qualified medical expenses.

Save on taxes with HRA reimbursements.

You don't have to pay federal or state income taxes on funds used to pay for qualified medical expenses.

How paying for network care works with an HRA.

STEP 1 Your deductible	STEP 2 Your coinsurance	STEP 3 Your out-of-pocket limit
Your HRA automatically pays for all covered services, like doctor visits, first. If you spend all of the money in the HRA, it's your turn to pay. You will pay for covered services until you've paid the remaining deductible.	After paying the deductible, your plan has coinsurance. You and your plan share the cost (percentage) of covered services. You will pay a copayment for prescriptions.	When you reach this limit, you are done paying. The plan will pay 100% of your covered services for the rest of the plan year. All deductible and coinsurance payments add up to meet this limit.

Preventive care is covered 100% when you use a network doctor.

Certain preventive care services are provided as specified by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA), with no cost-sharing to you. These services are based on your age, gender and other health factors. UnitedHealthcare also covers other routine services that may require a copay, coinsurance or deductible.
